PATHCENTRAL SECURES $10 MILLION SERIES B INVESTMENT

IRVINE, Calif., October ##, 2010 – PathCentral, an Irvine, California-based anatomic pathology services company, announced today it has raised $10 million in Series B financing. The proceeds will be used to support the company's growth initiatives, continue to enhance its web-based laboratory information system (LIS), deploy a field sales force, and build out its esoteric cancer diagnostics laboratory. Okapi Venture Capital, Arboretum Ventures, and Baird Venture Partners co-led the round.

PathCentral offers the first fully integrated, web-based enterprise software platform designed specifically for community pathologists. PathCentral was created by a team of pathologists and industry executives who saw the challenges faced by community pathologists, including growing regulation, rising costs, declining reimbursement and increasing competition. PathCentral enables community pathologists to enhance their competitive position within their local market by providing a wide range of connectivity solutions to address even the most demanding customers.

"We are excited to partner with this group of investors to maximize our company's potential," said Matt Watson, CEO of PathCentral. "We believe our integrated software and services platform constitutes a significant upgrade to the tools currently in use, and allows us to truly partner with community pathologists to increase revenues and reduce operating costs. This investment will allow us to continue to invest in supporting these customers."

The PathCentral solution integrates all aspects of a pathology practice's business, including ordering (accessioning), barcode-based laboratory workflow management and specimen tracking, transcription, test send-outs, professional consultations, diagnosis, reporting, billing and financial analysis. Community pathologists spend approximately $4.4 billion on these functions annually.

"PathCentral is well positioned to take advantage of the changing healthcare landscape for community pathologists," said Sharon Stevenson, DVM PhD, Co-Founder and Managing Director of Okapi Venture Capital. "We are excited to work with the excellent management team and to facilitate the company's progress through this successful financing syndicate."

As part of the transaction, Stevenson will join the PathCentral board of directors, along with Tim Petersen, Managing Director of Arboretum Ventures, and Michael Liang, PhD, Partner of Baird Venture Partners.
